Dear Sir/Madam,

Expression of Interest – First aid Trainer

I have worked in the Ambulance Industry for over 20 years as an advanced life support Paramedic. I am submitting this letter as I am interested in joining your team of First Aid Trainers.

Currently, I manage and operate a small passenger transport business that specialises in the transport of low (medical) risk elderly and people with disabilities. Prior to this I worked an advanced life support paramedic with St. John Ambulance for seven years and, before that, for the State Ambulance Service in South Africa. During my career, I was involved in various roles many of which involved the supervision and overseeing of new recruits as well as employees seeking professional development within our organisation.

My knowledge of the Ambulance Industry is extensive and I spent approximately half my career (accumulatively) as a Trainer of paramedics, student doctors, and members of external organisations such as the Traffic police and Fire Department. The environment in which I worked required the highest levels of respect and integrity. I was fortunate to have encountered thousands of people from multi-cultural backgrounds and was often required to team up with complete strangers to ensure the success of our duties.

The experiences I described, combined with my operational experience as well as my roles as Primary School Teacher and Sessional tutor (Edith Cowan University) have improved my skills tremendously and has helped me to develop as a person, which in turn, has improved my ability to motivate and lead people.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Sanjay Prag
