OBJECTIVE

I am currently looking to move into a position where I will bring a wealth of skills, experience to an organisation with the same spirit that I possess and where my skills and knowledge are directly transferable.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I am a highly skilled business professional with a 4 year exceptional career as the Director of Training within a Registered Training Organisation directing its Eastern States branches and an outstanding 10 year career within Corrective Services New South Wales.

Have been a manager in what is considered the flagship correctional centre for the State of New South Wales. Renowned for being a self starter and possessing the ability to achieve results and meet core business objectives.

My highest achievement was managing the Acute Crisis Management Centre at Long Bay for 18 months with the lowest number of industrial disputes and workplace injuries. My management practices of the Acute Crisis Management Centre resulted in a number of international corrections organisations being interested in emulating my practices within their own organisations.

In my capacity as a Director with Valiant Training I achieved the highest student results within an adjustable budget and was the only Director to never fall below budget expectation and maintain the highest standards.

The highlight of my employment with Valiant Training was the introduction of an international training partnership with the Israel Defence Force for high risk non-weapon system training for law enforcement and security industry staff. The partnership was a first for Australia and was quite successful within its customer base.
