Dear Sir/Madam,

I write to express interest in the position of Casual Trainer with Australia Wide First Aid in Brisbane. I bring to the role a broad range of experience as an educator. In particular I have:

- extensive experience and proven results in education and training in workplace, university and school settings, including face-to-face and online delivery
- high level academic and applied professional teaching knowledge of contemporary curriculum and pedagogy including application of adult learning principles.
- excellent consultation, relationship building and interpersonal skills including a high level ability to network and negotiate across organisations
- excellent oral and written communication skills
- completed an Apply First Aid/CPR course through Australia Wide First Aid (May 2013)
- had experience as a primary and secondary teacher in practical first aid situations
- reliable transport and laptop.

I am currently completing a Masters of Learning and Development as part of a project team that is delivering innovative online learning solutions. I possess a Bachelor of Education, a Certificate IV in Workplace Assessment and Training (currently in the process of upgrading to TAE40110) and have over 19 years of experience as an educator. I have successfully worked across many cultures and have been a sessional academic in education at QUT and Griffith University, delivering courses that have utilised online, face-to-face and blended approaches to learning.

I have demonstrated exemplary personal drive and integrity in various roles within Education Queensland and other agencies and have shown a commitment to each organisation's values and goals. I am strongly committed to learning and development and enjoy the challenge of new opportunities. I believe that my broad knowledge, skills, experience and networks in a wide range of areas could readily be utilised in the role of casual trainer. Thank you for your consideration of this application. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you request any further details.

Yours truly,

Fynn Stark
